

Confirmation
ANZAC Day on Norfolk Island
23 - 30 April 2018 ex Sydney

Norfolk Island is a tiny 8km x 5km island located between Australia and New Zealand in the middle of the South Pacific Ocean. Just over 2 hours flying from Sydney or Brisbane the island boasts a pristine environment with beautiful beaches, a rugged coastline, World Heritage convict site and National Parks and Reserves dotted with the iconic Norfolk Island pines. As well as being alive with history the island boasts a strong sense of community and Islanders are warm and welcoming to visitors and proud to show off their island.

Join the community of Norfolk Island and participate in the planned activities during ANZAC week 2018. Experience the touching beauty of the first dawn service in Australia, in Norfolk Island's magnificent world heritage-listed Kingston.

Norfolk Island's contribution to both world wars was, per capita, the largest in the Commonwealth, which is proudly remembered by all islanders. Despite difficulty with transportation to and from Norfolk Island nine men departed for the Boer War, 81 of a possible 160 men joined the Australian and New Zealand military for WWI and 280 of a possible 365 men plus eight women joined the Australian and New Zealand military for WWII. The Norfolk Island RSL Sub-Branch was reformed late in 1945 when Norfolk Island personnel began to return to home from WWII. In 1950 the Sub-Branch members raised 50 pounds to purchase a half-acre plot for the sole purpose of building the Norfolk Island RSL Sub-Branch Club. Just as important during this period the RSL Women's Auxiliary was formed to primarily support the Sub-Branch and widows of the Sub-Branch.

The dawn service will be held at the location of the first service in 1917. The turquoise waters of Emily Bay will echo with the mournful sounds of the Last Post as the sun rises.

Later, the mid-morning parade and ceremony will be held at the lovingly tended Cenotaph which is situated in the heart of the convict built settlement. It will be guarded by members of the school's cadet corps and veterans from The Australian and New Zealand defence forces will proudly march together.

By spending ANZAC week on Norfolk Island, you will do more than attend Australia's first dawn service. You will arrive on the airstrip that was first built to support the war effort in the Battle of the Coral Sea. Your package will provide a range of experiences that will showcase the island's natural beauties, its remarkable culture and history as well as its proud ANZAC heritage.

You will have the opportunity to sing in one of the most beautiful locations in the world, and honour the memory of the ANZACs.

The first floor housed an engineer's store, and the third floor a grain store. The basement contained a liquor store and a general store.
